

Health Information Practitioner

About the Position:

Health information practitioners collect, review, organize and manage health information. At the Saskatchewan Cancer Agency, they are part of a team responsible for overseeing and protecting patient health data. They ensure information is accurately reflected in the patient record, while also making sure the care team can access this information when they need it.

Health information practitioners at the Cancer Agency triage referrals from external physicians and agencies, and obtain reports from hospitals and other care providers to incorporate into the patient health record. They analyze and verify information to ensure accuracy.

The Cancer Agency receives information requests from patients and external agencies for information from the patient's health record. Health information practitioners respond to requests for information in compliance with the Health Information Protection Act (HIPA), other related provincial legislation and Cancer Agency policies.

Job Requirements:

Education

- Grade 12
- Diploma in Health Information Management

Credentials

- Active membership with the Canadian Health Information Management Association (CHIMA)

Health Information Practitioner

About the Position:

Health information practitioners collect, review, organize and manage health information. At the Saskatchewan Cancer Agency, they are part of a team responsible for overseeing and protecting patient health data. They ensure information is accurately reflected in the patient record, while also making sure the care team can access this information when they need it.

Health information practitioners at the Cancer Agency triage referrals from external physicians and agencies, and obtain reports from hospitals and other care providers to incorporate into the patient health record. They analyze and verify information to ensure accuracy.

The Cancer Agency receives information requests from patients and external agencies for information from the patient's health record. Health information practitioners respond to requests for information in compliance with the Health Information Protection Act (HIPA), other related provincial legislation and Cancer Agency policies.

Job Requirements:

Education

- Grade 12
- Diploma in Health Information Management

Credentials

- Active membership with the Canadian Health Information Management Association (CHIMA)

Work with us!

The Saskatchewan Cancer Agency is a provincial health-care organization dedicated to providing cancer care for the people of Saskatchewan. Our compassionate and knowledgeable team provides leadership in health promotion, early detection, treatment and research for cancer.

We run two cancer centres, the Allan Blair Cancer Centre in Regina, and the Saskatoon Cancer Centre. We also provide services in rural communities in partnership with hospitals through the Community Oncology Program.

Our vision is a healthy population free from cancer, and our more than 900 dedicated employees work hard every day towards this vision.

For the past 90 years, our teams have been leading revolutionary technologies that help make our treatments as effective as possible to help our patients live longer, fuller lives.

In 2022, the Cancer Agency received an Exemplary Standing for safety and quality from Accreditation Canada, the highest achievement a health-care organization can receive.

Note: All positions at the Saskatchewan Cancer Agency require a criminal record check.

Visit our website for more information.

Work with us!

The Saskatchewan Cancer Agency is a provincial health-care organization dedicated to providing cancer care for the people of Saskatchewan. Our compassionate and knowledgeable team provides leadership in health promotion, early detection, treatment and research for cancer.

We run two cancer centres, the Allan Blair Cancer Centre in Regina, and the Saskatoon Cancer Centre. We also provide services in rural communities in partnership with hospitals through the Community Oncology Program.

Our vision is a healthy population free from cancer, and our more than 900 dedicated employees work hard every day towards this vision.

For the past 90 years, our teams have been leading revolutionary technologies that help make our treatments as effective as possible to help our patients live longer, fuller lives.

In 2022, the Cancer Agency received an Exemplary Standing for safety and quality from Accreditation Canada, the highest achievement a health-care organization can receive.

Note: All positions at the Saskatchewan Cancer Agency require a criminal record check.

Visit our website for more information.

